Under the blue moon
I see my black face
Did I die too soon?
'Cause my heart is in wrong place
Everywhere I feel his breath
Under the mask I have sad smile
But plise hand me over into death
My own feelings I want to find
Where is my soul, there's in your pain
You killed my touch, in you're black rain
The cold caressing rains, wasted blood and tears
Time is the father in mind
I see the pain in the silent sky
I see your face, remember life now?
All this time you're played with my mind
It's too late save myself
You gave me your heart into my mind
But in the right time you didn't give me your hand
In the darkness of a endless night
At the down of eternal life
Our spirits dive in the world of silence
Sadness of my nights, dark awakes
Lying until you can erase the past
But when the darkness leaves the night
In the land of mystery we shave
You can come along if you dare
Spell, story never ends
Spell, story never ends
Spell...
The cold caressing rains
Wasted blood and tears
Time is the father in your mind
I see your face, remember life now?
Spell, story never ends
Spell, comedy is over
