"The Curse"

Breakdown takes to my heart unkind
People watch me slowly unwind
All my friends lauh at me
But I want to be like this

Death is the coarse of life
That takes place in the end
Noone wants it to happen
But there is no life you can borrow

Between me and you
There's nothing we can do
But sit back and watch
Everyone else fuck up

I was there from the start
Seems like life is what we were given
Life seems like a big countdown
We wait for it like a ticking clock

But as it turns out
Immortality is secrecy
No one will understand
How I feel about this
Until the time comes
And the countdown is over
And the waiting is done
