You should wash your hands
The blood is still on them
I told you about a problem
But thats not how I solve them
It all started two weeks ago
I was away
Time was moving slow
I came back to see not only you
But everyone else who was there
They seen it happen to me.

There is a plane
Off the shore
That's where the accident happened
Family, Friends, and Enemy's have seen it
There was a fight I was in
Obviously as you have heard I lost
But at the same time I won
They put me in a white room
With padded walls
Silence was my best friend

I got feed twice a day
I was on so many medications
I don't know what to think anymore
All I saw was white
Day after day
Silence still my best friend
All because I fought myself
