Eyes wide open heart got broken
Felt the pain but I never spoke it
Eyes half open, here's my token
Of places gone, burned and broken
When everything I want
Is everything I see
And everything I dream for
Seems so far away
Do I believe that
Where's the love
And the life
When pride is all I see
Inside of me
Eyes half shut where's my crutch?
I'm sick and tired of all that stuff
Stone sober now and shaken down
A push for truth has shut my mouth
Where's the love
And the life
When pride is all I see
Inside of me
Weakness of my flesh and blood
The weakness I have come to love
There is love
He is life
And light is what I need
Inside of me
Weakness of my flesh and blood
Weakness I have come to love
