I never thought in all my life
I'd find the wife I did my friend
And all the while I'm smiling' too
I see her heart is faithful to the end
To realize that fears inside me
Never came so close as she did
Selfish ways would end it all, but no
You see, she is my love
She sees through
Hardly has to listen
And when she leaves me
I know I'm hurting so much
Gotta see that smile again
Life goes on and changes too
I see her heart is faithful to the end
I leave behind my pride and know that, see that
I don't deserve the love she gives oh no
Vanity it paints with brilliant hues
And it'd take the love that she'd give
Now I'm free to be the one I am
I'm free you see
She is my love
She sees through
Hardly has to listen
And when she leaves me
I know that I'm hurting so much
To feel that touch
To have that love
To see that smile again
She sees through
Hardly has to listen
And she believes me
And knowing her is touching heaven's gate
I've got to see that smile again
