

Traffic Island

"Another Day Without Air"

Visit "Another Day Without Air" on MotoLyrics.com

I used to think that they all have the look in their eyes when they're proving me their love for the very first time

Now it's another day without air and I thought that it's never coming back
And it's another day without air and I thought that it's
never coming back
When I see your face I feel I'm in the beginning

I used to think that they all mean the things that they say
Like "I'm gonna stay" and "I'm never gonna go away"

Now it's another day without air and I thought that it's
never coming back
And it's another day without air and I thought that it's
never coming back
When I see your face I feel I'm in the beginning

There's something about you that makes me smile,
smile tonight
There's something about you that makes me want to leave this life

I used to think that the true love of my life was always the one who was with me at the time

Now it's another day without air and I thought that it's
never coming back
And it's another day without air and I thought that it's
never coming back
When I see your face I feel I'm in the beginning

There's something about you that makes me smile,
smile tonight
There's something about you that makes me want to
leave this life

