I hope you will hear me, I don't say I deserve it
But I'm not gonna force you to stay I know it's far too late to make you believe anything I say

After all these mindless years
I'm amazed I can look you in the eye
It's hard to believe that you're still laying here with me

Then you said you'll go away
You look relieved when you say that nothing is ever gonna go like we Planned today
And you'll be safe when I step aside
If you ever see me again, run and hide

I'm trying to be okay, I'm trying to stay sane making the most of my days
'Cos after what I've done I have no right to be in pain Whenever you call me I'll ignore it I won't let you forgive me this time
We are equally weak but in different ways

Then you said you'll go away
You look relieved when you say that nothing is ever
gonna go like we Planned today
And you'll be safe when I step aside
If you see me again, run and hide

And you'll go away
You look relieved when you say that nothing is ever
gonna go like we Planned today
And you'll be safe when I step aside
If you ever see me again, run and hide

I don't believe that he makes you laugh Does he even make you smile?
But all that matters is that at least he doesn't make you cry
Unless he's braindead or violent I believe he's the one to keep Anyone is perfect when you compare them to me

Then you said you'll go away
You look relieved when you say that nothing is ever
gonna go like we Planned today
And you'll be safe when I step aside If you see me again, run and hide

And you'll go away
You look relieved when you say that nothing is ever
gonna go like we Planned today
And you'll be safe when I step aside
If you ever see me again, run and hide
