The reactor's down, I guess for labor day today
It's the first day I ain't seen great plume of steam
From across the lake, from across the lake
Hey, that's a morning moon, yeah

I'm not making strange, you said someone's paying When something's too cheap, somebody's paying something
You said, someone's paying something
Under a morning moon, yeah
Say those little things that don't make anyone feel better, yeah

It didn't take too much to upset her
Nothing that could clear a room
Just say one little thing that could make me feel better
Under this morning moon, yeah

The sun's a light bulb and the moon is a mirror
There are times when you can see both the bulb and the mirror
See the bulb in a mirror and that's a morning moon, yeah
Say those little things that don't make anyone feel
better, yeah

It doesn't take too much to upset her
Nothing that could clear a room
Just saying one little thing, trying to make you feel better
Under this morning moon, yeah
Under this morning moon, yeah

(Morning moon, yeah)
Trying to make you feel better
(Morning moon, yeah)
Nothing too far from the truth

(Morning moon, yeah)
Trying to make you feel better
(Morning moon, yeah)
Nothing too far from the truth

(Morning moon, yeah)
Trying to make you feel better
(Morning moon, yeah)
Nothing too far from the truth
