Yeah uh huh uh
Uh huh uh
Uh uh uh uh
Childz
Yeah
Yeah

I'm on a whole different level Pain came and went so my chain of events come with whole different bezels Stones, whips, and medals
If hip-hop's a ship, then I came to rock her boat like my flows filled with pebbles Sown, stitched and fitted - I stick to the plan That's why these haters feel me coming like my dick's in their hand
Last night, I was hangin' with a chick from Japan Discussing life and how it switched so quick for ya man, damn
Konnichiwa to the fast life
She told me homie only make sure that your cash right
- you gotta grind
Like the spine of a halfpipe I swear she remind me of a chick in my past life, she's that tight
But through it all I recall having a passion For beautiful hearted women they say I'm old fashioned
My life became a movie but it won't be close captioned Simply cause that shit just don't happen
I'm crackin jokes - we both laughin
She sayin' my name cause I told her I loved her accent - past tense
I'm not a playa and trust me it's not a game I just learned in this lane you need to know when they're actin
I changed the script and cut all the extras My ex told me that shit would stress ya - I guess she right

Before she skated I navigated my way into her heart
And broke it apart with just one kiss goodnight, aite?
And you still chasin' the pussy
I'm over here gettin colder promoters callin' to book me See - it's a whole new chapter, this good life is all a brothers after Ask me why I do it and I'll tell you quite simply I work hard cause all the odds were against me Yeah - a few thrills, I'm askin' what it really means Doin' 80 down 285 bumpin Billie Jean
The Man in the Mirror's Human Nature is Dangerous
It seems life changes as soon as I get a hang of it Yeah - And I try to tell karma to chill and let me heal but we speak different languages
Sometimes I consider if they know how much I sacrifice Or how I prayed for the sun to rise on the blackest nights
Sometimes when haters say my name I wanna start to fight,
But deep down in my heart I know you grow with plight
I use to spend hours listening to The Calm Plottin' my rise, revisin these visions of getting on You couldn't fathom the feelin' I swear I'm truly gone
The sun rises as I rise to the place I truly belong
They use to always tell me it's darkest before dawn
And then it dawned on me - maybe they're right So late '08 and the most of '09 was the time when God was tellin me son goodnight While everybody was livin' I was feelin' depressed
But my dedication was preparation for what was next All that time sittin', yeah I had to wait cause you can't graduate without going through test Yes, I use to walk around town with my glass tinted
But now I'm proud of my flaws, now watch me bask in it Forget the gossip and the dumb lies 2010 and beyond... that's my sunrise
