"Burning Match In Hand"

It's getting worse
It's burning me
From the feet up
And how it's in my eyes
And i can't see you anymore
I'd ask you to hold my hand
But i've lost it all in these flames
Don't fret for the loss of me
I struck the match
I watched the flames rise high above our heads with a smile
Is my downfall all a suprise to you?
I thought i made it clear
I'm not your perfect modem
Burn, i watch it all go down
Blazing, i feel the flame against my skin
Why must i burn all that i love?
I loved so much, but i have failed you
I am sorry
I watched the flames rise high above our heads with a
Is my downfall a suprise to you?
