Young TrakBoss, Chi-city resident

If you ain't talking about money, it's irrelevant

Now, you can call it confidence or arrogance

But my sick flow back it up, where my medicine

Now who better than the best to do it

I hit the booth fucked up and then I get right to it

On that get right fluid, and I smoke that kill

It enables me to murder my beats at will

Why you acting brand new like you don't know what it is

Like I won't take your girlfriend and have her swallow my kids

And send her ass right back without paying the bill

Kush got me feeling like I'm sitting on big wheels

Boy, the skills unreal, open up your ear

And I ain't worried about a hater cause they don't come near

Cheers, everybody grab your cups of gin

Here's a toast to never being broke again
