You see, somebody like me not going to bother a hater
while they're on their job
Aint enough shade to block out my shine, homey

(Verse 1)

Star status, center of attention
Everybody's watching and everybody's listening
Mind of a monster, I'm that apparition
It feel like that inner beast coming into existence
It's my time, nigga, this is reminiscent
Of '96, big homey came spitting sick shit
'04 drop out dropping big hits
I swear you niggas better off with a slit wrist
How it feel to have a nigga on your heels
And he hungry for the top and you looking like a meal
No room for two so he going for the kill
It's time to show and prove, show these niggas what it is
He dropped out of school but he still learned the biz Cause he never been a fool when it come to earning his I'm awesome, The Miz
But do them haters want to see me win? Nope

(Hook)

But it's ok, it's alright
It's ok, it's alright
It's ok, it's alright
We gon get it, we gon get it in due time
So shout to the haters for thinking they get the best of
me
Shout out to my doubters for thinking that they
affecting me
Shout out to the naysayers with the negativity
And anybody trying to throw shade on my destiny

(Verse 2)

2-0-0-9, I was on my grind
Moved to Cali for the first time, going after mines
I left my ex-girl laying on that bed crying
But I aint trying to live a life regretting not trying

I got tired of waiting on a chance so I took one
A risk not to be taken by a shook one
I want it like my life depended on it
Killing the competition no matter who the opponent
I'm a east side resident, L7 never been Stay with sticky fingers from rolling up herbal medicine
Undiscovered veteran, my talent is heaven sent Man, my confidence is the highest it's ever been Mainstream sound, underground attitude
Not comfortable with conforming, I'm not your average dude
I try to lead by example when they don't have a clue
But do I get some type of gratitude? Nope

(Hook)

But it's ok, it's alright
It's ok, it's alright
It's ok, it's alright
We gon get it, we gon get it in due time
So shout to the haters for thinking they get the best of
me
Shout out to my doubters for thinking that they
affecting me
Shout out to the naysayers with the negativity
And anybody trying to throw shade on my destiny

It's ok, it's alright
It's ok, it's alright
It's ok, it's alright
We gon get it, we gon get it in due time
So shout to the haters for thinking they get the best of
me
Shout out to my doubters for thinking that they
affecting me
Shout out to the naysayers with the negativity
And anybody trying to throw shade on my destiny
