Good morning man good morning
Well, finally you're still here
I thought you were dead yesterday
But something had to be gone wrong.
Good morning friend of mine
Really nice to see you,
I guess you have a good day
I hope that it would be the last day of your life

What a surprise brother of mine
I can't believe you're walking here
You know what kind of world we're living
You know your light is flashing
Do you know the sun is falling?
Do you know the night is coming?
And, well? Still walking here?!
And well? Still out of home?!
Good night my little friend
Sorry but I can't wait anymore
You know... work is work and I
...I have to say goodnight...
