I have a backbone that could beat you to the ground
But watching you lay there still wouldn't fill the void
I hate hating my friends because of you
And hating everything I do

Nobody should live the life that I try to lead Spending your whole time here chasing security
I hate hating my friends because of you
I hate this song because of you

Although I'll forgive
I'll never forget
Somebody noble should just lock you inside a coffin Cause it's an honest place to be for someone dead to me

Although I'll forgive
(Although I'll forgive)
Somebody noble should just lock you inside a coffin
(Somebody noble should just lock you)
Cause it's an honest place to be for someone dead to
me

Although I'll forgive
I'll never forget
Somebody noble should just lock you inside a coffin
Cause it's an honest place to be for someone dead to
me

Although I'll forgive
I'll never forget
(I'll never forget)
Somebody noble should just lock you inside a coffin
Cause it's an honest place to be for someone dead to
me
