You roll these words off of your lips
Acting like I don't exist
Conversation stops when you are silent
Don't think this meant nothing to me
I feel it every time I breathe
You walk away as I exhale
Keeping secrets safe from me

Im not getting any better
When dealing with these thoughts
Of replacing each other
Can we just slow down baby
Youre the issue, you know I miss you
Take a breath, you'll be alright.

I don't understand where you stand with me
Should I take your hand or take a number
Ill wait and wonder
You didn't know why I'd give you everything
You didn't know why I tried so hard

Im not getting any better
When dealing with these thoughts
Of replacing each other
Can we just slow down baby
Youre the issue, you know I miss you
Take a breath, you'll be alright.
