CHORUS:

I close my eyes, let the whole thing pass me by
There is no time to waste, asking why
I'll run away with you, by my side
I'll run away with you, by my side
I need to let go, let go, let go, let go of this pride

I think about your face, and how I fall into your eyes
The outline that I trace, around the one that I call mine
A time that called for space, unclear where you drew the line
I don't need to solve this case, and I don't need to look behind

CHORUS

Do I expect to change, the past I hold inside
With all the words I say, repeating over in my mind
Some things you can't erase, no matter how hard you try
An exit to escape, is all there is left to find

Bridge:
Until this echo, echo, echo, echo in my mind
Until this echo, echo, echo, echo can subside

CHORUS

Bridge
