"Brave"

Reach out, numb and I cant see
Black out, guess I'm the one
Can't breathe
His ass layin on freezing,
His skin, venting releasing
Rewind, just no never know whats behind,
Does any body know trust?
In fact, does anybody see me?
Look back, life was but a day dream.
Satellites recieving,
Are all my loved ones breathing?
And does it matter at all?
If I was brave enough to fall, I'd find the answers
And now my back's against the wall, forever
Big world and I am feeling small,
Slow and faster
And i know I don't have it all together

Today everybody's slacking
And then
Wish I was back in high school
Everything's easy
Who cares about childhood teasing?
In fact, now it's depressing,
Relax, everybody's stressin'
I don't know if I can take this,
But I'm somehow gonna make it through.

Satellites recieving,
Are all my loved ones breathing?
And does it matter at all?
If I was brave enough to fall, I'd find the answers
And now my back's against the wall, forever
Big world and I am feeling small,
Slow and faster
And i know I don't have it all together

What you see is what you get
Must I remind this every second of my life to everyone who cant seem to find their own?

Satellites receiving,
Are all my loved ones breathing?
And does it matter at all?
If I was brave enough to fall, I'd find the answers
And now my back's against the wall, forever
Big world and I am feeling small,
Slow and faster
And i know I don't have it all together
