You never listen to me
You cannot look me in the eyes
And I have struggled to see
Why it's so easy to push me aside

I no longer believe
That you were ever on my side
How could you know what I need?
When I'm the last thing on your mind

Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you
Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you
Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you
Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you

So disconnected, going through the motions again
So disconnected, everything goes over your head
So disconnected, you got me hanging by a thread
So disconnected, when will this cycle end?

You don't really know me
I don't think you ever even tried
We're on the same routine
Where you say, you never have the time

Who do you want me to be?
And do you want me in your life?
I feel so incomplete
You left me too far behind

Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you
Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you
Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you
Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you

So disconnected, going through the motions again
So disconnected, everything goes over your head
So disconnected, you got me hanging by a thread
So disconnected, when will this cycle end?

It's too hard to just move on, it's easier said than done
It's too hard to just move on, it's easier said than done

It's too hard to just move on, it's easier said than done

Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you
Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you
Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you
Too out of touch, out of touch to touch you

So disconnected, going through the motions again
So disconnected, everything goes over your head
So disconnected, you got me hanging by a thread
So disconnected, when will this cycle end?

So disconnected, going through the motions again
So disconnected, when will this cycle end?
So disconnected, so disconnected
When will this cycle end?
