"When It Rains"

Throw stones at a house of glass
Pointing the finger, laying the blame
What they say, try and hold them back
But we really feel what we need to say

With the cracks in the wall
Distortion
I blow it all wide open

When it rains it pours
And the damn that held us in
Has now broken loose again
When it rains it pours
And the flood we're drowning in
Brings us closer to the end

When it rains
When it rains
When it rains

The motions we can't control
Breaking us down, too hard to ignore
Longing somewhere to go
What once was a child is now the perfect storm

With the cracks in the wall
Distortion
I blow it all wide open

When it rains it pours
And the damn that held us in
Has now broken loose again
When it rains it pours
And the flood we're drowning in
Brings us closer to the end

We are left alone
With these secrets
Our freedom was our own
Once we reveal it

When it rains it pours
And the damn that held us in
Has now broken loose again
When it rains it pours
And the flood we're drowning in
Brings us closer to the end

When it rains
When it rains
When it rains
