In her darkness I guide her to the One
The One who guides me when I feel as if I'm done
I lift her up to the One who lifted me
From the depths of despair from the sky came He Longing for the peace, longing for the oneness
Without your presence I'll be faceless
She peers into my soul and takes me into her hold
Without it I'm cold and with it I grow old
In her restlessness I pray for rest
In her hopelessness I pray for hope
In her anger I pray for love
In her anguish I pray for solace
