I had a nightmare
I lived in a little town
Where little dreams were broken
And words were seldom spoken

I tried to reach you
But all the lines were down
And soon the rain began to fall
On this little town, on this little town

The little people
Have very little left to say
Their words had all been shortened
It didn't really seem important

And I had a feeling
That you were very far away
But then a little voice inside me said
You'll never get away from here

And it's 1, 2, 3 times and you lose
Of course, it doesn't matter how you say it
I'm all out of love
So there's nothing really more to say
I'm throwing it all away

Oh, we had opinion
But now we all think the same
We never look at one another
Only when another suffered

And I thought I saw you
Then it was just another face
But I stood on a blank horizon
Running in the human race

And it's 1, 2, 3 times and you lose
Of course, it doesn't matter how you say it
I'm all out of luck
So there's nothing really more to say
I'm throwing it all away

And it's 1, 2, 3 times and you lose
I'm all out of love
So there's nothing really more to say
I'm throwing it all away
Throwing it all away
Throwing it all away
