It's been killing me for the longest, longest
How a girl like you could be so lonely, lonely
Took me a minute then I noticed, noticed
That look on your face, look on your face

It's obvious she has issues that she needs to resolve
I can't take it sorry, but I can't get involved.
Her name is danger, danger
I ain't trying to deal with all that anger, anger
Left over from all the other me who played her, played
her
Lookin for revenge I think I might just leave her alone.
She bout to blow up on me
She's about to blow (blow up on me)
She's about to blow (blow up on me)
She's about to blow (blow up on me)

Be different if you weren't attractive, attractive
Girl that ain't the case you got that action, action
You work that out & maybe we can go there
But for now we ain't goin nowhere, yeah

It's obvious she has issues that she needs to resolve

I can't take it sorry, but I can't get involved.
Her name is danger, danger
I ain't trying to deal with all that anger, anger
Left over from all the other me who played her, played
her
Lookin for revenge I think I might just leave her alone.
She bout to blow up on me
She's about to blow (blow up on me)
She's about to blow (blow up on me)
She's about to blow (blow up on me)

Oh tell me why she actin' so crazy?
Pushin every option away
She's so empty, she's bout to be sleepin' alone Causin yourself so much misery, treat every man so miserably
You're a hostage of the love you want, just let it go

She's danger, danger
I ain't trying to deal with all that anger, anger
Left over from all the other me who played her, played
her
Lookin for revenge I think I might just leave her alone
