You promised you'd never leave, but there you go again
There you go again
Just when I start to leave, you take a piece of me
You take a piece of me

You keep saying goodbye
I just keep asking why
You won't give us a try when we're so close
I dream of me and you
Why won't you follow through
Please tell me what to do
Why you keep saying no

Every time you go
Every time you disappear
I'm still right here
Every time you leave
I just want you to believe
That I'm still right here

Girl believe me I'm right here
I'll never leave girl I'll be right here
I'm still right here

If it's not what you wanna hear, why are you afraid?
Why are you afraid?
If you never face your fears you'll never know what's here
You'll never know what's here

You keep saying goodbye
I just keep asking why
You won't give us a try when we're so close
I dream of me and you
Why won't you follow through
Please tell me what to do
Why you keep saying no

Every time you go
Every time you disappear

I'm still right here
Every time you leave
I just want you to believe
That I'm still right here

You keep your distance
When I just wanna be here with you
Can't you see that I been tryin
To break down the walls and come through

Every time you go
Every time you disappear
I'm still right here
Every time you leave
