This is where loneliness resides,
And the only thing flickering,
Are these fading street lights,
And my words keep on melting inside,

Rain has never seemed so loud,
But this time it's not gonna ease on up,
No not anytime from now,
I'll never let go of this stuff,

It's a war, a fight til the end,
It's always more, like it's some sick trend,
It's so played out, but still it plays,
And this doubt, it stays,

Oh I'm stuck inside,
I could never ever hide,
You're stuck in the back of my mind,

It's a war, a fight til the end,
It's always more, like it's some sick trend,
It's so played out, but still it plays,
And this doubt, it stays,

I could change,
But you'd stay the same,
I don't know if I can make it through,
It's not even like I have you,

It's a war, a fight til the end,
It's always more, like it's some sick trend,
It's so played out, but still it plays,
And this doubt, it stays.
