I see a child who's crying,
I feel her love is dying,
What can I do to comfort her?
Her eyes were set upon me,
I felt the sadness in her,
Can you tell me who's to blame?

(Her life will soon be a memory,
I think we all know just who's to blame)

I cannot comprehend it nor will I understand it,
Why we don't try to make a change
(Soon there will be an empty world,
If we don't try to make a change)
Even if we all should try,
Would it be enough?
If you're the savior, then forgive all of our sins
If you're the maker, then you're the king of all kings
There will be times of wonder,
When he will walk among us,
Only the chosen ones will know.

(There is still time for a change, just put your trust in your belief
Even if we all should try, would it be enough?
If you're the savior, then forgive all of our sins
If you're the maker, please just don't abandon us
