

Michael Johnson

"After You"

Visit "After You" on MotoLyrics.com

I still dream of yesterday
When it almost all came true
We were living in a world with no goodbyes
And as your laughter fades away
I still reach out for you
How I'd ever let your love just slip right by

(CHORUS)

After you, there's too many hours in the day
Too many minutes I get lost in your memory
After you, there's too much silence in the night
Too much staying up alone, after you

Must be something I can say
To find a way to change your mind
Though we really need to give it one more try
Guess I just got lazy in love
You gotta keep that spark alive
I can't believe I let that fire die

(CHORUS)

You know I watch the blue light of every dawn
The day begins but the night lives on

(CHORUS)

After you, there's too many hours in the day
Too many minutes I get lost in your memory

Visit Michael Johnson page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.