Right off the top of my head
I can think of a thousand different things
I'd rather be doing when I'm being tied down To an anchor unwillingly and I'm tying the knot at a pace
Where my fingers bleed you could say that I'm having fun the pressure at the bottom wraps around me like a loved
One if I could hold my breath for like two more minutes
Would that be good enough for me?

I should have said something
I shouldn't to keep you from my neck
But I'll keep it to myself and let you think that your right Assuming that the next few years will go As planned and we do make it we'll have to take into consideration
That this castles not big enough to sleep in
But not let the issue keep us from growing.
I'd put my money on us anyday (I'd bet every last dollar I had)
Building it instead of burning it in smiles
I will lay here dreaming up a sky to hold us in from taking off
Lets not sleep again until it's under the same roof in the same bed next
To the same head under the same pillow.
