Light bulb in my room
Eclipsed by many moons
Dressed in my costume, Baby
Photos on the wall
Of ones who have it all
The girls the boys will call, Baby

It's impossible to fight
When you work a hard day's night

This is not my voice
This is not my choice
This is somebody's baby
They don't know my age
They don't know my name
They just call me
Baby Blue

Piper in the woods
Wooed me from my hood
Said I'd be a good, Baby
Sold into a world
Of oriental pearls
Such a pretty girl, Baby

I'm a million faces now
Stolen angel in the crowd

This is not my voice
This is not my choice
This is somebody's baby
They don't know my age
They don't know my name
They just call me
Baby Blue

If you hear my voice
Breaking through your noise
No you can't take long
I will send my name
On a paper plane

But you can't take long

St. Agnus don't call
The ghosts within these stalls
Den mother just calls us Baby
There's a dragon's tower
In every nation's power
This is now the hour

Sri Lanka, Katmandu
I'm in New York City too

This is not my voice
This is not my choice
This is somebody's baby
They don't know my age
They don't know my name
They just call me
Baby Blue

If you hear my voice
I will send my name
On a paper plane

Baby Blue.
