This is a public service announcement
Kittys and Cats should pay close attention
The way it is is not what's intended
Lets mend it

A style that never fears competition
Fashion that doesn't need mass attention
Losing our lives only just to find them
Live them

We are the music of the streets
A style that is unseen
A different way to be
Friends with enemies
A look that never ends
Love is the new trend
We are the new black
We're the new black

Not going to brand our backs with their emblems
Not going to sing their corporate anthems
We're learning how to change up the system
Within

We are the music of the streets
A style that is unseen
A different way to be
Friends with enemies
A look that never ends
Love is the new trend
We are the new black
We're the new black

Don't need no magazine to describe it
Don't need the stars to run out and buy it
Don't need money if you want to try it
Try it

We are the music of the streets
A style that is unseen

A look that never ends
Love is the new trend
We are the new black
We're the new black.
