(Garbage in, Garbage out)

I can't stop this ship from sinking
So full of purpose, So full of meaning
I can't stop this chest from beating
And there's no air here, I'm barely breathing

If I lost control,
Please protect these things I need to be whole
I thought that there'd be more than this
This drowning feeling less and less
And all of the shiny polish on this soul!

(Garbage in, Garbage out)

In spite of these best intentions
You don't have to, if you don't want to Just remember, "You're only as good as what you once were"
But don't be so sure...

If I lost control,
Please protect these things I need to be whole
I thought that there'd be more than this
This drowning feeling less and less
And all of the shiny polish on this soul!

(Garbage in, Garbage out)
