"Die Tonight"

My pride is gone, my heart is stoned My days are long, and you don't understand that My nights are cold, who do you call when you're alone?

And it's crazy, I'm thinkin bout you baby I know I said I wouldn't, but tell me how I couldn't miss the many fun times.

Baby this is one time that I see the world doesn't revolve around me, no.
But why did I have to wait and see it the minute you left me?

Now everything is wrong, tell me where you've gone
ya boy don't shed no tears
I'm not gon cry tonight, no, not tonight.
But it hurts like hell, heart broken times twelve
If another day without you is, I just might die tonight,
die tonight.

Now I ain't even been the kind of man to leave myself up over the past But I can't help thinkin if I just would've spent a little more time
then we just wudda been better than we turned out I'd rather how I made us Leavin you with no doubt, forcin you to break up But you really made me look at myself I check my ego, baby I have confessed, that I see the world doesn't revolve around me, no no.
But why did I have to wait and see it the minute you left me?

Now everything is wrong, tell me where you've gone
Ya boy don't shed no tears
I'm not gon cry tonight, no, not tonight.
But it hurts like hell, heart broken times twelve
If another day without you is, I just might die tonight,
die tonight.

Please don't let me, please don't let me, please don't let me die babe, die babe.
Don't let me, don't let me die babee
