"Breaking The Rules"

On the street
You are listening to every beat of your heart
Want to know if it's working and you're still alive

On your feet
You are walking around with your clothes torn apart
In a nightmare where the question is how to survive

In this dangerous land
I'm trying the best that I can to be a respectable man
So won't you listen, won't you listen to me?

I'm breaking the law
If you don't give me more than public attention
I'm breaking the rules gonna act like a fool

On the street
You are looking so hard for a place for the night
All you want is understanding of your basic rights

In this dangerous land
I'm trying the best that I can to be a respectable man
So won't you listen, won't you listen to me?

I'm breaking the law
If you don't give me more than public attention
I'm breaking the rules gonna act like a fool
(I'm breaking the rule)

I'm crossing the line
If you don't give me time on your television
I've got something to say don't push me away

I'm breaking the law
If you don't give me more than public attention
I'm breaking the rules gonna act like a fool
(I'm breaking the rule)

I'm crossing the line
If you don't give me time on your television
I've got something to say don't push me away
(I'm breaking the rule)

(I'm breaking the rule)
