I believe in the world
When I see the beauty in a girl like you
And I believe that all my dreams of yesterday
Is one touch away, one touch away

Wanna be your final destination
Wanna be the station where you jump off the train
Let's make a story about you and me
This love is meant to be

I believe that life
Is giving back to you what you sacrifice
All the tears I cry disappear with the love that I see
Right next to me, right next to me

Wanna be your final destination, I wanna be your town
Wanna be the station where you jump off the train
Let's make a story about you and me
This love is meant to be

This love is meant to be

Wanna be your final destination
Wanna be the station where you jump off the train
Let's make a story about you and me
This love is meant to be

Wanna be your final destination
Wanna be the station where you jump off the train
Let's make a story about you and me
This love is meant to be
