THE LOSS OF A FRIEND (5.01)
(Music and Words: Jascha Richter)

(Unfortunately there is one line in this song where I can't hear what Jascha sings - I have marked that with ".....")
It's not the feeling of being alone
It's more the absences - someone you've known
It's not the impact against the wall
It's more the painful fact that we are so damn small

Because the loss of a friend
Makes you wonder why
If there is a world on the other side
The loss of a friend
Makes you think again
Life is what you find in a second of time

When life is easy we fool around
"Keep ... all ....."
Then something changes with the glimpse of a light
The disillusion makes you turn your face to the sky

Because the loss of a friend
Makes you wonder why
If there is a world on the other side
The loss of a friend
Makes you think again
Life is what you find in a second of time
I can only feel there is an invisible power
Tearing up our love to pieces
And I get the feeling that everybody's laughing
And talking behind our backs
It must be the heat - I'm sorry

Chorus:
It's just, it's just desperation - I'll kill for you
It's just, it's just desperation - I'll kill for you

Thoughts are coming thoughts are leaving
Emotions flowing through my heart
In the heat I feel so lazy

In the heat we'll all go crazy

Chorus x 3:

It's just, it's just desperation - I'll kill for you

It's just, it's just desperation - I'll kill for you

She might have thorns

She's never worn

Not for me

But when we're close

I just sense the smell of a rose

It might be wrong

It might be right

But I give up without a fight

'Cause I have been waiting - waiting for her

When she comes I hear her say

Hold me close (to night) - we'll drift away (we'll drift away)

All right - nothing's gonna change it nothing's gonna change it now

She's so fine

She'll be mine

Forever and ever

All right - no one's gonna break it no one's gonna shake it now

She's so fine

She'll be mine

All right - nothing's gonna change it nothing's gonna change it now

She's so fine

She'll be mine

All right
