The sardonic presence of a felon to the elected arbiter,
As they resolve the punishment for the malefactor before them,
This castigation undermined by words designed for a humane cause,
Applied to every being with the capacity to be overruled,
Deficient and free from a clause,
Becoming a sanctuary for those that would otherwise be rightfully condemned,
A guarded life and a shelter for an eye,
No idea of the peccency displayed,
The only way to teach and reform - an eye for an eye,
Revoke an inversion of this law,
No longer an insult to the prey,
Stripped of the rights they assumed to none,
Egalitarianism stating an equality,
For each and every life, ultimately incarcerated,
The torturous fruition that dissolution is just,
A sanction neutrally rewritten, Appertaining to the seizure and vengeance for their
sins,
A blackened shrine to let the blood of the depraved,
Left violated an exorcism to maim your desire,
Castigate them, reprise their rights,
Biolate and scar their remains,
Held captor in a hell of own design,
The nefarious system consumes itself,
Unseeing to the means of evasion,
Strewn within our commandments,
The torturous fruition that dissolution is just,
A sanction neutrally rewritten,
Appertaining to the seizure and vengeance for their
sins,
A blackened shrine to let the blood of the depraved,
Left violated an exorcism to maim your desire,
Castigate them, reprise their rights,
Violate and scar their remains.
