Do you walk through the middle of a crowd of people
and never look around?
What are you afraid of?
Tell me now, what are you afraid of?
Do you walk through the middle of an empty room
staring at the ground?
What are you afraid of?
Tell me now, what are you afraid of?
Cause if you are, you're missing out
I'll walk with you tonight, and I'll stay right by your side
I'll walk with you tonight
(I'll walk with you tonight, and I'll stay right by your side
I'll walk with you tonight)
This promise is a secret kept, a memory I'll never forget,
For this I would cross my heart and hope to die
What are you afraid of Miss Princess?
Don't you know that, you can always count on me?
You can! You can always count on me!
Don't fret, ('cause) I'm always by your side
Don't walk, never walk away
(What are you afraid of?
Tell me now, what are you afraid of?
If you are, you're missing out
And if you are, you're missing out
I'll walk with you tonight, and I'll stay right by your side
I'll walk with you tonight
And I'll walk with you tonight, and I'll stay right by your side
I'll walk with you tonight [x4]
This promise is a secret kept, a memory I'll never forget,
For this I would cross my heart and hope to die)
