I celebrate your leaving
Every night I pray and wish you'd come back home
When you're away from me I worry 'bout your thinking And my hands are shaking, my heart is racing and I can't let you go
I know I can't explain (try to let out let it out slowly)
This is how it feels
It feels like my world is crashing down
And I've never been so scared
We've never been apart this long and I've never been
this scared
Never been this scared at all
I'm sorry I was selfish,
But I had to face the doubt in me alone
When you're away from me do you worry 'bout what I'm thinking?
Would you please be patient,
No don't stop waiting, why'd you let me go?
I know I can't explain (try to let out let it out slowly)
This is how it feels
It feels like my world is crashing down
And I've never been so scared
We've never been apart this long and I've never been
this scared
Never been this scared at all
How now and then seem worlds apart,
The good old days of light and dark Should we bring them back or let them go
It feels like my world is crashing down
And I've never been so scared
We've never been apart this long and I've never been
so scared
Never been so scared
It feels like my world is crashing down
And I've never been so scared
We've never been apart this long and I've never been
so scared
Never been so scared at all
