Well I don't know much about some things
And I don't know much about us
But when I see your face
I see your eyes and they're smiling
Well I know that it's you that I love

You say that I'm the one who'll always find the sunshine
in the rain
So know that I'm the one who'll always keep on coming back again

Cause when I see your face
I see your smile and it moves me
Well it runs way down deep into my soul
Well it's always with me
It always keeps me laughing
I think I found something there that keeps me whole

Well I don't understand the reasons
Why I do the crazy things that I do
But the joy you bring me the love it goes right through me
Well there's nothing else I could do

You say that i'm the one who'll always find the sunshine
in the rain
So know that I'm the one who'll always keep on coming
back again

Cause when I see your face
I see your smile and it moves me
Well it runs way down deep into my soul
Well it's always with me
It always keeps me laughing
I think I found something there

It's like the sun that chases the morning moon from the sky
Some things I never feel I have to question why It's like the rise and fall
The ebb and flow of the tide
Some things I never answer why

Well I don't know much about some things
And I don't know much about us
But when I see your face and
I see your eyes and they're smiling
Well I know it's you that I love

You say that I'm the one who'll always find the sunshine
in the rain
So know that I'm the one who'll always keep on coming
back again

Cause when I see your face
I see your smile and it moves me
Well it runs way down deep in my soul
Your always with me always keeps me laughing
I think I found something there that keeps me whole
