Of all of the women I've loved in my life,
I love my wife the most.
I think the perfect breakfast is eggs over-easy,
And jellied toast.
I think people are the same, no matter what they claim,
Coast to coast.
I know God is alive,
And puts things into line just to let us know.

Like when you're mowin' the yard and you see a glass
of water,
Bein' carefully spilled by your little baby daughter.
It's a love like that makes the world go around and
around an' around.
With her Mama's blue eyes an' a smile just as sweet,
Yeah, here comes an angel with little bare feet.
It's all right here: if you know where to search,
You'll find a little Heaven on earth.

I think diamond rings an' old blue jeans,
Are worth about the same.
I know dreams come true, 'cause I've got the proof,
In my picture frames.
An' there ain't nothin' better than dancin' together,
In the pouring rain.
Life makes perfect sense,
When you learn it begins with the little things.

Like when you're mowin' the yard and you see a glass
of water,
Bein' carefully spilled by your little baby daughter.
It's a love like that makes the world go around and
around an' around.
With her Mama's blue eyes an' a smile just as sweet,
Yeah, here comes an angel with little bare feet.
It's all right here: if you know where to search,
You'll find a little Heaven on earth.

Search the skies
