Welcome to the human condition
It's a lethal state of mind
There is no cure for the living
Only a promise for the dead

Wake up to a hangover
There's nothing left to take
Fuel the void with blinded hate

Do we really choose every road we walk?
Is there no fate to control the turns we make?

Fill the night with your screams
There are no more dreams
The blind still leads the blind

Welcome to the supreme condition
It's a lethal state of mind
There is no cure for our crave
Only cause and effect

Wake up to a hangover
Could we have been so wrong
Was the world not ours alone?

Did we really choose every sky we tore?
Was there no fate behind the turns we made?

Fill the night with your screams
There are no more dreams
The blind still leads the blind
Rise but fall twice the shame
The screams fall in vain
The skies are burning

Fill the night with your screams
We lost all our dreams
The blind still leads the blind
Rise but fall twice the shame
The screams will fall in vain
The sky is burning

The human condition
Is a journey defined by you, you, you
