Self conduct by compulsive means
Just to keep everything as it seems
A chain of pains to fulfill my dreams

Bold lies won't make you forget
All that you forced me to accept
It's hard to believe there's no regret

Worn out from always holding back
Attack - Don't let it break your back
I can't take anymore

I know I promised always to be true
I know I promised that I'd always be there for you
Still the anger burning through my veins
The fury that I cannot restrain
Will leave these words said in vain

An anger without resolution
A fury in constant evolution
Exit all reason in this final conclusion

I can't undo what's said and done
I can't stop tomorrow's coming
Silence chokes the violence
But no one seems to have won

Judgement falls on forgotten scenes
Another blow of rotten schemes
The heart can never lie but does the end justify the means?

Worn out from always holding back
Attack - Don't let it break your back
I can't take anymore

I know I promised always to be true
I know I promised that I'd always be there for you
Still the anger burning through my veins
The fury that I cannot restrain
Will leave these words said in vain

Worn out from always holding back
Attack - Don't let it break your back
I can't take anymore

I know I promised always to be true
I know I promised that I'd always be there for you
Still the anger burning through my veins
The fury that I cannot restrain
Will leave these words said in vain

No I cannot restrain
So it's all said in vain
But in the end
No one seems to have won
