I went away to see an old friend of mine
His sister came over she was out of her mind
She said Jesus had a twin who knew nothing about sin
She was laughing like crazy at the trouble I'm in Her light eyes were dancing
she is insane
Her brother says she's just a bitch with a golden chain She keeps coming closer saying "I can feel it in my bones - Schizophrenia is taking me home."

My future is static
It's already had it
I could tuck you in
And we can talk about it

I had a dream
And it split the scene
But I got a hunch
It's coming back to me
