Consider the source and ignore if you can
Whatever is said to undo the plan
Consider the source and ignore it, my friend
You're doing just fine, keep on keepin' on

Keep in mind the difference between courage and will Don't be afraid to stop what you've begun
These straight folks think that winning, gives them license to kill
But number good is better than number one

Consider the source and ignore if you can
Whatever is said to undo the plan
Consider the source and ignore it, my friend
You're doing just fine, keep on keepin' on

The eye that cast dispersions on the quiet way of life
Is lost among the past and partly blind
And aggressive undermining of what you know is right
Is the work of fools who think without their mind

Consider the source and ignore if you can
Whatever is said to undo the plan
Consider the source and ignore it, my friend
You're doing just fine, keep on keepin' on

With a gentle overturning of the darkness for the light
Extend yourself with caution to the call
And should tomorrow find you, moving slowly through the night
Don't let their cries of terror make you fall

Consider the source and ignore if you can
Whatever is said to undo the plan
Consider the source and ignore it, my friend
You're doing just fine, keep on keepin' on

You're doing just fine, keep on keepin' on You're doing just fine, so keep on keepin' on
