I think it must be Fall
Because I need my coat
Plus a couple more layers of warmth
And on the telephone wires
A spider web hangs
The moisture on the ground it isn't quite yet frost

With frozen lines and frozen times
I drinking water from the store
I think it's only right that they'll raise the price
Knowing the population's going to swell next year

To keep this nation satisfied
Even if it means we're gonna tell them lies
Feed them propaganda through the satellites
And people will cheer because the picture's more clear

We all know that gas prices will rise
Rise and fall and then fall and rise
They must be on endless supply
So we can drive
For miles at a time
Miles at a time
Yeah to work on time
I can't wait to work nine to five
On demand I demand
That they publish the script to their master plan

So we can keep this nation satisfied
Even if it means we're gonna tell them lies
Feed them propaganda through the satellites
And people will cheer because the picture's more clear

Time can fly
And time can freeze
It can fly by faster than I can breath
Fly so fast it'll pass you by
Now everybody's trying fly
Fly away or fly back home
Fly to someplace that you can call your own
Building doors or heating floors
Shit lets all go buy something that we can't afford

To keep this nation satisfied
Even if it means we're gonna tell them lies
Feed them propaganda through the satellites
And people will cheer because the picture's more clear
