Tried to find a way to say in words
Some things, I thought I'd try it again
There was once a time it seemed absurd
To go through any kind of pain

Now I'm older
Come to love all the pelting rain
So much bolder
Try anything I fail just try it again
Try anything I fail just try it again

I hope that everything you want you get
Your want is never always your need
Even though I've never met you yet
It feels as though I know your name
Now you're older
Come to love all the pelting rain
So much bolder
Try anything you fail just try it again
Try anything you fail just try it again

We understand you want self preservation
I think it's time we just show some patience
I'm strong
But I know
That we're stronger
Stronger than one

And if you promise me
That you'll always be
Strong like a river
Then I will promise you
That you'll always do
Whatever it is you wanna
