It's time to revolt
Take the bolt out that's holding it all together
Deception's lurking on the premises
Some claiming evolution others reading Genesis
When's this fighting gonna end
Seen my dreams and aspirations
Killed by wars between the nations
And to top it all off
They've got stations broadcasting but making up sensations

Excuse me but it's time to watch the find and
Make sure it's right when the good takes over
Evil sin begins to creep in and win
Brings the dark clouds covers garden of eden

War tears people apart
And in a nasty way war brings people together
Like 1984, George Orwell could tell
Make a common enemy
Raise a flag in unity
Born just a child
Traits by heredity
We know what's down but do we really know what's up
Who want to join a system if a system is corrupt

Excuse me but it's time to watch the find and
Make sure it's right when the good takes over
Evil sin begins to creep in and win
Brings the dark clouds covers garden of eden

All those things that tomorrow brings
Were here today instead
Don't have to turn too many pages
To see the stages that this place been in
The world keeps on spinning
Listen to the sky
Heart keep pumping and I'll keep breathing in
