Remember what's been said
They called us crazy in the head
For havin' strange ideas that don't comply Because we chose instead to question what we've heard and read
And all the rules attached to all our lives
From dusk til dawn today and every year that fades away
We just wanna know the reasons why
For things like...
The breeze the seas the mountains and sky
Early morning sky
The birds the bees please let's find who made this place
Alright alright alright

Dreamin' in our beds or eatin' all our daily bread Learnin' just by livin' til we die
But we choose instead to rewrite everything correct
To seek the truest answers we could find
For things like...
The breeze the seas the mountains and sky
Afternoon sky
The birds the bees please let's find who made this
place
Alright alright alright

For things like...
The breeze the seas the mountains and sky
Late night sky
The birds the bees please let's find who made this
place
Alright alright alright

Crazy in the head... crazy in the head... crazy in the head... crazy in the head...

The breeze the seas the mountains and sky
Early morning sky
The birds the bees please let's find who made this
place
Alright alright alright?
