Stars millions of stars
Each a sun burning bright
Shine, yeah the shine in a never ending night time
Moons glow and laugh at passing meteorites
And time is meaningless it just stands still, it just stands still
There's no wrong or right
There's no good or evil
No weak or strong except the lights that flicker and fade
And the only reason for being is just simply being Just one answer to one question,
Infinite that's all...

Ooooh Rockin' Down The Milky Way...
Alright... ok... alright... ok

To boldly go where no one has ever been before
To find the key that fits the lock on the universe front door
Philosophers, scholars, poets, skeptics
Superman, the presidents
All insignificant and small!

Ooooh Rockin' Down The Milky Way...
Alright... ok... alright... ok
