Opinions seem to get in the way
You really shouldn't care what they say
And I, I just love to reach for the stars anyway I can sometimes but it's Hard

Gonna leave this morning, gonna leave today
Walking anywhere now from the blue skies going gray
Now don't you try and test me and don't you kick my pride
You better feed me fire for the chill I feel inside

Hey how come it's warm out and I'm feelin' ice,
Ain't nobody skatin' on the water
Look at the calendar well, better check it twice
I just can't believe it's a summer day

If I'm sleepin' I don't need to wake
Don't get me up for what you have to say
Yeah you know your the one with anxious touch
The quiver in our voices way too much

Gonna leave this morning, gonna leave today
Walking anywhere now from the blue sky going gray
Now don't you try and test me and don't you kick my
pride
You better feed me fire for the chill I feel inside

Hey how come it's warm out and I'm feelin' ice?
Ain't nobody skatin' on the water
Look at the calendar well, better check it twice
I just can't believe it's a summer day
Hey how come it's warm out and I'm feelin' ice?
I can't take the snow but I'll settle for rain
