How many times have i been here before?
Without a light to lead me out of the tunnel How many times have i stopped-and took a good look around
Why am i tryin to make it on my own?
Nothing is goin my way I feel so all alone without a home and nowhere to turn to Feels like im vounded by chains that wont let me go Why amd i tryin to make it on my own?
Chorus
My skies are so much clearer since You took away the rain
This lonely season ive been in is starting to change
Im not afraid to stand against whatever comes my way Since i know that You are here, and You promised to stay
The minute i was thinking that the sun wouldn't shine
Was the minute You changed everything and walked into my life
My skies are so much clearer since You took away the
rain
This lonely season ive been in is starting to change
Im not afraid to stand against whatever comes my way
Since i know that You are here, and You promised to
Who is the man that reflects through the glass?
Is there a remedy inside of me to clear up the image?
Sometimes i feel that I'll never see the light of day Sometimes i feel that it's never gonna end My skies are so much clearer since You took away the
rain
This lonely season ive been in is starting to change
Im not afraid to stand against whatever comes my way
Since i know that You are here, and You promised to
But the minute iwas thinking that the sun wouldn't shine
Was the minute You changed everything and walked
into my life
Through the thick and thin and all that's in between Youre showing me that things are not as bad as they seem Since You came and rescued me i haven't been the same Cause i know that You are here, and You promised to
